READING COMPREHENSION — Marks 30

15. Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow. [5]

A Clean River

The Chambal is one of the cleanest rivers of India. It begins in Madhya Pradesh, flows through Rajasthan and finally joins the Yamuna. The city of Kota stands on its bank. Farmers use its water to grow wheat and mustard, and its dams give us electricity. Very few factories stand along the river, and the villagers do not dump waste into it. That is why rare animals such as the gharial, a crocodile with a long, thin snout, and the river dolphin live in its water. Every year, the children of Kota gather on the river bank to clear plastic bags and bottles. They say that a clean river is a gift we must protect.

(i) Where does the Chambal begin and which river does it join? 2

(ii) Name any two uses of the Chambal's water mentioned in the passage. 2

(iii) Write the word from the passage that is opposite in meaning to common. 1

16. [5]

(i) Which two animals live in the water of the Chambal? 2

(ii) Why is the Chambal one of the cleanest rivers? 2

(iii) Write the plural form of city. 1

17. [5]

(i) What do the children of Kota do every year? 2

(ii) What do the children say a clean river is? 2

(iii) Find a word in the passage that means to throw away carelessly. 1

18. Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow. [5]

The Sparrow in the Verandah

One morning, the children of Class V noticed a sparrow carrying small twigs to a corner of the school verandah, just above the old fan. She was building a nest. Their teacher, Mrs Joshi, asked them not to switch on that fan, because its blades could hurt the little birds. For many days the children kept a bowl of water and some grains of rice on a stool nearby, and they watched from a distance without making any noise. After two weeks, three tiny eggs hatched into chicks. The mother sparrow flew in and out all day to feed them. In a few more weeks, the chicks learnt to fly and left the nest. The children were a little sad, but they were glad that they had helped. Mrs Joshi smiled and said, "Kindness is never wasted."

(i) What did the children notice one morning? 2

(ii) Why did Mrs Joshi ask the children not to switch on the fan? 2

(iii) Find a word from the passage that means small pieces of a dry branch. 1
