9	(c) Making fans is an art.	Making is a gerund.
10	(d) beauty besides use	Aesthetic value.

SECTION — B (Very Short Answer) — Answers — 4 × 2 = 8

Q.	Expected Answer / Value Points	Marks
11	A fan moves air and has itself moved through changing times (1). The pun in the title joins both ideas (1).	1+1
12	Artisans can keep old methods (1) and add new designs and markets (1).	1+1
13	It gives the poem a musical flow (1) and makes the images easy to remember (1).	1+1
14	It carries local materials and designs (1) that distinguish one region's culture from another (1).	1+1

SECTION — C (Short Answer) — Answers — 4 × 3 = 12

Q.	Expected Answer / Value Points	Marks
15	It starts with origin and ancient use (1). It describes regional types (1). It ends with the present risk and revival (1).	1+1+1
16	It shows the fan is simple (1). It invites respect for small things (1). It sets a gentle, admiring tone (1).	1+1+1
17	The artisan said that his fans were made of palm (1). Present becomes past (1). 'My' becomes 'his' (1).	1+1+1
	OR: She names materials like palm and bamboo (1). She notes differences in design (1). Examples make the idea concrete (1).	1+1+1
18	Crafts show who we are (1). They connect generations (1). Loss of crafts weakens identity (1).	1+1+1
	OR: If buyers do not support them, artisans will lose their craft (1). 'Unless' means 'if not' (1). First conditional is used (1).	1+1+1

	OR: Opening image (1). Colours (1). Movement (1). The gardener (1). Closing line (1).	2+2+1

Mistakes to avoid:

- Saying 'pankha' comes from a metal or cloth word. It is linked to pankh, a bird's feather, because early hand fans were made of feathers.
- Writing that hand fans are the same everywhere. They differ from region to region because craftspeople used local materials and added their own designs.
- Giving 'electricity' as the only reason the craft is at risk. The fuller answer is modern technology and machine-made cooling, which reduced demand, so hand fans survive mostly as decorative pieces.
- Missing the pun in the title: 'Winds of Change' refers both to the wind a fan makes and to change in society. Say 'double meaning', not 'a storm'.

- In 'Canvas of Soil', calling the gardener a thief or saying the poem is about farming for profit. The poem treats the garden as a painting: seeds are brushstrokes and the gardener is an artist (metaphor).
- Grammar slips: Craftspeople have kept the art alive (plural subject), and an artisan (vowel sound), not 'a artisan'.

Evaluator's note: Award step marks as shown; accept any correct alternative method. In internal-choice questions, evaluate only the option attempted. Deduct up to ½ mark for missing units or figures where required.
