- Wrong age/date details: Anne received the diary on her 13th birthday, 12 June 1942, and her sister Margot was three years older.
- Quoting 'paper has more patience than people' as the whole reason Anne writes; her reasons are loneliness and having no one to confide in fully.
- Leaving out the restrictions on Jews: the yellow star, no trams or cars, shopping only 3-5 pm, a curfew; these show the effect of Nazi rule on ordinary life.
- Showing only one side of Anne: she complains of loneliness but also writes in a lively, chatty manner; write the character sketch with both sides.
- Spelling slips: Kitty, confide, Jewish, Amsterdam, Margot; and using the wrong tense for what the diary recounts.
