7	(d) spiritual love	Divine love.
8	(a) only divine love is unconditional	Conclusion.
9	(b) colour	To colour.
10	(d) is often based on appearance	Theme.

SECTION — B (Very Short Answer) — Answers — 4 × 2 = 8

Q.	Expected Answer / Value Points	Marks
11	It suggests that men love hair, not the person (1) and that unconditional love is rare (1).	1+1
12	Three voices present different views (1) and create a miniature debate (1).	1+1
13	It gives a firm moral twist (1) leaving the reader reflective (1).	1+1
14	To test whether her suitors love her or her hair (1) and to find genuine love (1).	1+1

SECTION — C (Short Answer) — Answers — 4 × 3 = 12

Q.	Expected Answer / Value Points	Marks
15	The poet addresses Anne's beauty (1). He warns that men love the hair (1). He doubts that anyone loves her self (1).	1+1+1
16	Humans judge by appearance (1). They find it hard to love purely (1). Divine love is the ideal (1).	1+1+1
17	The poet said that no man would love her for herself (1). Tense and pronouns change (1). Statement preserved (1).	1+1+1
	OR: She is practical (1). She can change her hair (1). She wants genuine love (1).	1+1+1
18	Short stanzas (1). Neat rhymes (1). A tidy argument (1).	1+1+1
	OR: Because Anne has yellow hair, men love her (1). 'Because' shows reason (1). Complex sentence (1).	1+1+1

SECTION — D (Long Answer) — Answers — 2 × 5 = 10

Q.	Expected Answer / Value Points	Marks

	OR: Anne's offer (1). Hair colours (1). Old man's twist (1). Tone (1). Conclusion (1).	2+2+1

Mistakes to avoid:

- Saying the poet scolds Anne; the poem is a talk between the poet and Anne about being loved for oneself.
- Mixing the idea: young men will not love Anne for herself while her yellow hair attracts them.
- Writing that Anne agrees to dye her hair out of vanity; she says she can dye it brown, black or carrot so that men may love her for herself.
- Missing the old religious man: he says only God can love a person for herself alone, not for outward looks.
- Confusing the poet: W. B. Yeats is an Irish poet; the poem has three stanzas with a repeating refrain.
- Spelling slips: despair, ramparts, honey-coloured, declare, refrain.

Evaluator's note: Award step marks as shown; accept any correct alternative method. In internal-choice questions, evaluate only the option attempted. Deduct up to ½ mark for missing units or figures where required.
