SECTION — C (Short Answer) — Answers — 4 × 3 = 12

| Q. | Expected Answer / Value Points | Marks |
|---|---|---|
| 15 | Pasta is believed to have reached Italy from China as noodles through trade (1); Common foods such as potatoes, soya, groundnuts, maize, tomatoes, chillies and sweet potatoes were unknown in Europe and Asia until Columbus found the Americas (1); Food therefore spread across continents through trade and conquest, changing diets (1). | 1+1+1 |
| 16 | The Bretton Woods Conference in New Hampshire in July 1944 set up the IMF and the World Bank (1); The IMF deals with the external surpluses and deficits of its member countries (1); The World Bank was set up to finance post-war reconstruction (1). | 1+1+1 |
| 17 | Under the Corn Laws, Britain restricted food imports to keep grain prices high for landowners (1); After their abolition in 1846, cheaper food was imported from America and Australia, so British farmers were affected (1); Cheap food increased the demand for industrial workers and spread the economy of Britain across continents (1). | 1+1+1 |
| | OR: Indentured labour was a bonded labourer under contract for a fixed period, to work on plantations, mines and roads (1); Many Indian workers from poor regions were taken to the Caribbean, Mauritius and Fiji, deceived by recruiters (1); Living and working conditions were harsh and legal rights were few, hence it was called a new system of slavery; it ended in 1921 (1). | 1+1+1 |
| 18 | Agricultural prices fell sharply, and India's exports and imports nearly halved between 1928 and 1934 (1); Peasants were hit hard as colonial revenue demands remained fixed, so many became more indebted (1); Rural India saw distress sales of gold, and India became a net exporter of gold in 1931 (1). | 1+1+1 |
| | OR: Railways, steamships and the telegraph transformed transport and communication (1); Faster, cheaper transport allowed food and goods to be moved to distant markets and migrants to travel overseas (1); Refrigerated ships made it possible to carry meat from far-off lands, and colonisation was driven by these technologies (1). | 1+1+1 |

SECTION — D (Long Answer) — Answers — 2 × 5 = 10

|---|---|---|

|---|---|---|
| 19 | The First World War (1914-18) was fought between the Allies and the Central Powers on an industrial scale with new weapons (1); Millions of young people were killed or injured, reducing the productive workforce (1); Industries were restructured for war production and trade was disrupted (1); Britain borrowed heavily from US banks and the USA became a creditor country (1); Post-war recovery was slow and uneven and created conditions for the Great Depression (1). | 1+1+1+1+1 |
| | OR: India's exports and imports nearly halved between 1928 and 1934 (1); Wheat prices fell by about half and peasants were indebted (1); Colonial revenue demands remained fixed, forcing the sale of land and gold (1); India became a net exporter of gold in 1931, which helped Britain (1); Rural people suffered most, while urban people with fixed incomes gained from cheaper goods; Congress's Civil Disobedience gained support (1). | 1+1+1+1+1 |
| 20 | In Africa, rinderpest destroyed cattle, and colonisers used this to force Africans to take wage work on plantations and mines (1); Africans lost their traditional livelihoods and land (1); In India, the colonial rulers exported raw cotton, indigo and food, while Indian handloom goods lost markets (1); Indian workers were sent as indentured labour overseas (1); India's earnings from trade were used to meet British deficits and home charges (1). | 1+1+1+1+1 |
| | OR: Indian indentured workers took their food, music and religious festivals to the Caribbean, Fiji and Mauritius (1); Muharram became Hosay in Trinidad (1); Chutney music emerged as a mix of Indian and local music (1); Workers kept Indian languages and customs alive while adapting to new lands (1); Even after indenture ended in 1921 many stayed, and this cultural mix still exists (1). | 1+1+1+1+1 |

Mistakes to avoid:

- Describing the Silk Routes as a single road; they were a network of land and sea routes linking Asia, Europe and northern Africa.
- Saying Corn Laws encouraged imports; they restricted the import of corn, and their abolition made food cheaper and ruined British farmers.
- Calling rinderpest a human disease; it was a cattle plague that reached Africa in the 1890s.
- Equating indentured labour with slavery or free migration; it was bonded labour under a contract.
- Mixing up the IMF (short-term deficits and surpluses) with the World Bank (post-war reconstruction loans).
- Placing the Great Depression after the Second World War; it began in 1929, and Bretton Woods came later in 1944.

Evaluator's note: Award step marks as shown; accept any correct alternative method. In internal-choice questions, evaluate only the option attempted. Deduct up to ½ mark for missing units or figures where required.
