3	(a) levels of government	Federal and state governments
4	(c) Dutch speakers have a majority in the Central Cabinet	Equal ministers are required
5	(a) not correct, since every society needs some form of power sharing	Power sharing is also the spirit of democracy
6	(a) majoritarianism	It disregards the minority
7	(c) Giving power to panchayats reduces corruption and increases efficiency	Efficiency and corruption control are practical gains
8	(b) moral argument	It makes government legitimate
9	(d) complicated but has worked well	Even Belgians find it complicated
10	(a) Its constitution gives every major community a stake in government	Stake and participation of all communities

SECTION — B (Very Short Answer) — Answers — 4 × 2 = 8

Q.	Expected Answer / Value Points	Marks
11	Each organ of government checks the others (1); A court can review a law made by the legislature (1).	1+1
12	They give weaker sections a place in legislatures (1); This gives them space in government so they do not feel alienated (1).	1+1
13	French speakers were relatively rich and powerful (1); Dutch speakers got the benefits of economic development and education much later (1).	1+1
14	Two or more parties form a government together (1); No single party holds all the power (1).	1+1

SECTION — C (Short Answer) — Answers — 4 × 3 = 12

Q.	Expected Answer / Value Points	Marks
15	Dutch speakers were a minority in Brussels (1); Dutch speakers accepted equal representation in the Central Government (1); This was a balanced exchange (1).	1+1+1
16	Belgium's leaders accepted accommodation (1); Sri Lanka's leaders sought domination (1); Choices made by leaders and communities decide outcomes (1).	1+1+1
17	Citizens participate in decision making (1); They acquire a stake in the system (1); A legitimate government is accepted by those it governs (1).	1+1+1
	OR: (a) is among organs of government (1); (b) is among political parties (1); (c) is between levels of government (1).	1+1+1
18	Their demands for official language status and autonomy were repeatedly denied (1); Government policies increased alienation (1); By the 1980s organisations demanded Tamil Eelam (1).	1+1+1
	OR: Belgium gave equal ministers and community governments (1); Sri Lanka gave Sinhala sole official status (1); Belgium kept peace while Sri Lanka had civil war (1).	1+1+1

SECTION — D (Long Answer) — Answers — 2 × 5 = 10

Q.	Expected Answer / Value Points	Marks
19	Horizontal: legislature, executive and judiciary share power and check each other (1); Vertical: Union, State and local governments share power (1); Both ensure that no one holds unlimited power (1); Difference lies in levels versus organs (1); Constitution lays down the powers for each (1).	1+1+1+1+1
	OR: Four amendments between 1970 and 1993 recognised regional and cultural diversities (1); Equal ministers, regional governments with own powers, special-majority rules (1); Brussels given a special government with equal representation (1); Community governments handle cultural and language issues (1); Every community had a stake, so division was avoided (1).	1+1+1+1+1

20	Prudential: Belgium avoided division through accommodation (1); Moral: citizens are consulted on how they are governed (1); Sri Lanka's refusal harmed the unity of the country (1); Legitimate government is one where citizens have a stake (1); Hence power sharing is both useful and right (1).	1+1+1+1+1
	OR: Social groups feel heard and represented (1); Dominance is reduced (1); Decisions have wider acceptance (1); Political instability is lower (1); Belgium shows peaceful accommodation while Sri Lanka shows conflict (1).	1+1+1+1+1

Mistakes to avoid:

- Mixing up the two reasons for power-sharing: prudential (reduces social conflict, keeps stability) and moral (power-sharing is the spirit of democracy).
- Quoting Belgium's and Sri Lanka's data interchangeably: Belgium 59% Dutch, 40% French; Sri Lanka 74% Sinhala, 18% Tamil.
- Calling the 1956 Sri Lankan Act a step toward equality: it made Sinhala the only official language and favoured the majority.
- Confusing horizontal and vertical division of power: horizontal = among organs (legislature, executive, judiciary); vertical = among levels of government (Union, state, local).
- Forgetting that Belgium is not majoritarian: it gave equal ministers to Dutch and French speakers even though Dutch speakers are the majority.
- Writing 'community government' for the Belgian state government; the community government is elected by people of one language community irrespective of where they live.
