Mahatma Gandhi was born on 2 October 1869 in Porbandar, Gujarat. As a boy, he was shy and honest. He studied law in London and later worked in South Africa, where he saw how unfairly Indians were treated.

After returning to India, Gandhiji led the people in the freedom struggle. He believed in truth and non-violence. He never used weapons; instead he used peaceful ways like fasting and marches. The Dandi March of 1930, in which he walked to the sea to make salt, is very famous.

India became free on 15 August 1947. Gandhiji is lovingly called 'Bapu' or the Father of the Nation. His birthday, 2 October, is celebrated as Gandhi Jayanti all over India.
