3	SAVE WATER By Rohit Jain Water is life, yet we waste it carelessly. Only a small portion of Earth's water is fit for drinking. A running tap while brushing teeth, a leaking pipe or washing a car with a hose can waste hundreds of litres. We can save water by closing taps tightly, repairing leaks and collecting rainwater. Used water from vegetables can be given to plants. Schools should teach students to value every drop. If we do not save water today, our children may face a severe shortage tomorrow. Let us pledge to save every drop. (Content 2 · Organisation 1 · Language 1)	4

	OR: THE BENEFITS OF EARLY RISING By Sneha Rao Early rising is a wonderful habit. The morning air is pure and cool, which makes a walk or yoga session refreshing. A person who wakes early has more time to study, exercise and prepare for the day without hurry. Studies show that the mind is fresh and sharp in the morning, so lessons are remembered easily. Early risers are healthier, calmer and more punctual. They rarely reach school late. Great leaders like Mahatma Gandhi followed this habit. Let us all try to wake up with the sun. (Content 2 · Organisation 1 · Language 1)	4
