5	Learning a second language opens new doors. It improves memory and thinking skills, and helps us understand other cultures. A person who knows more than one language has better job opportunities and can travel easily. Language also gives access to literature and films from other lands. In a country like India, knowing a regional language and English helps one to communicate widely. So students should enjoy learning languages. (Content 2 · Organisation 1 · Language 1)	4
	OR: Mobile phones have both uses and dangers in schools. They help students to access information and reach parents in an emergency. But they distract students in class and can be used for cheating or bullying. Many schools therefore ban them in classrooms. A balanced approach is best: phones may be used for learning under the teacher's supervision, and kept away at other times. Students must learn to use them responsibly. (Content 2 · Organisation 1 · Language 1)	4
