4	14, Gandhi Nagar Jaipur 10 November 2026 The Editor The Daily Herald Jaipur Subject: Poor street lighting in Gandhi Nagar Sir/Madam, Through the columns of your newspaper, I wish to draw the attention of the municipal authorities to the poor street lighting in Gandhi Nagar. Most lamps on our main road have not worked for three weeks. After dark, women and children find it difficult to walk, and there have been cases of chain-snatching and accidents. Residents have complained several times, but no repair has been done. I request the authorities to repair or replace the lamps urgently and to arrange regular inspection. I hope this letter will bring a quick response. Yours faithfully, Mohan/Mohini (Format 1 · Content 2 · Organisation 1 · Language 1)	5
	OR: 22, Civil Lines Jaipur 10 January 2027 Dear Arun, I hope you are well. I am writing to tell you about my winter holidays, which I spent in Manali. We travelled by bus and reached there at sunrise. The mountains were covered with snow, and the air was crisp. I enjoyed walking in the pine forest, building a snowman, and sipping hot soup. We also went to the Hadimba temple and watched local people dancing. The best part was the toboggan ride. I returned with happy memories and a few photographs, which I shall show you when we meet. Do write to me about your holidays. Yours affectionately, Rohit/Rashmi (Format 1 · Content 2 · Organisation 1 · Language 1)	5
5	Newspapers are windows to the world. Reading them daily keeps us informed about local, national and international events, and helps us develop an informed opinion. They improve vocabulary and language skills, especially when we read editorials. For students, newspapers are a source of general knowledge and current affairs, which are valuable for examinations. They also teach us to see an issue from different points of view. Moreover, they offer entertainment through sports pages, cartoons and puzzles. In this age of fast digital news, the printed newspaper still gives a reliable and balanced account. A habit of reading it every morning is therefore a good investment for the mind. (Content 2 · Organisation 1 · Language 1)	4
	OR: A healthy mind needs a healthy body, and regular exercise provides both. Students who exercise stay fit, sleep better and fall ill less often. Exercise releases chemicals in the brain which improve mood and reduce stress, so a student can concentrate longer. Team games teach discipline, cooperation and the spirit of sportsmanship. A short walk or yoga session each day can also improve posture, which suffers from long hours at the desk. Schools should therefore give games a regular place in the timetable, and parents should encourage children to play outdoors rather than spend all their free time before a screen. (Content 2 · Organisation 1 · Language 1)	4
