	OR: Law to regulate internal affairs — member register, own constitution, independent authority for disputes, open elections to top posts; one-third tickets to women and quota in decision-making bodies; state funding of elections — in kind (petrol, paper, telephone) or cash on basis of votes; people's pressure through petitions, publicity, agitations by citizens, pressure groups, movements and media; more people joining parties — 'problem of bad politics can be solved by more and better politics'; caution against over-regulation.	5
