Political Science Chapter 5: Outcomes of Democracy | Class 10 Social Science | Maximum Marks: 40

SECTION — A (Objective Type) — Answers — 10 × 1 = 10

Q.	Correct Option	Brief Reasoning
1	(a) It improves the quality of decision-making	Democracy improves decision-making by consultation
2	(b) transparency	Transparency
3	(a) Both A and R are true and R is the correct explanation of A	Legitimacy is democracy's strongest outcome
4	(d) Dictatorial regimes	Table 1
5	(b) South Africa	Table 2
6	(c) Hungary	Top 20% share 34.4
7	(c) Guaranteed economic development	Democracy cannot guarantee development
8	(d) every citizen has a chance of being in the majority at some point	Majorities are not permanent
9	(c) Right to Information Act	RTI
10	(a) Both A and R are true and R is the correct explanation of A	Awareness

SECTION — B (Very Short Answer) — Answers — 4 × 2 = 8

Q.	Expected Answer / Value Points	Marks
11	Democracy ensures that decisions are taken through norms and procedures, so a citizen can find out whether a decision was taken through correct procedures; she has the right and means to examine the process.	2
12	It is the people's own government, elected by them; it may be slow or less efficient but people accept it, and this is why there is overwhelming support for democracy all over the world.	2
13	Between 1950 and 2000 dictatorships had a slightly higher growth rate (4.42 against 3.95), but among poor countries there is virtually no difference (4.34 and 4.28).	2
14	It promotes equality among citizens; enhances dignity of the individual; improves quality of decision-making; provides a method to resolve conflicts; allows room to correct mistakes (any two).	1+1

SECTION — C (Short Answer) — Answers — 4 × 3 = 12

Q.	Expected Answer / Value Points	Marks
15	A democratic government follows procedures, deliberation and negotiation, so it takes time; but because procedures are followed, decisions are accepted by people and are more effective; a government that decides quickly may take decisions people do not accept and face problems later; thus the cost of time is worth it.	1+1+1
16	Democracies develop procedures to conduct competition, reducing the chance of tension becoming violent; they teach respect for differences and ways to negotiate them; Belgium successfully negotiated differences among ethnic groups; non-democratic regimes suppress such differences.	1+1+1
17	Dictatorships had slightly higher growth (4.42) than democracies (3.95) in 1950–2000; for poor countries the gap is negligible (4.34 vs 4.28); growth depends on population size, global situation, cooperation, priorities; so democracy should not lag behind but cannot guarantee growth; it has other positive outcomes.	1+1+1
	OR: Economic development depends on many factors; difference in rates among poor countries is negligible; democracy has several other positive outcomes like dignity, freedom, accountability, legitimacy and accommodation of diversity.	1+1+1
18	Political equality (one vote each) exists but economic inequality grows; a small number of ultra-rich enjoy a disproportionate share of income while the poor depend on very little; democratically elected governments do not appear keen on poverty; in South Africa and Brazil, the top 20 per cent take more than 60 per cent of national income.	1+1+1
	OR: South Africa top 20% 64.8 and bottom 20% 2.9; Brazil 63.0 and 2.6; Denmark 34.5 and 9.6; Hungary 34.4 and 10.0; South Africa and Brazil have very high inequality, while Denmark and Hungary are much better.	1+1+1

SECTION — D (Long Answer) — Answers — 2 × 5 = 10

Q.	Expected Answer / Value Points	Marks

19	Accountability — regular, free and fair elections, open public debate on policies and laws, right to information; transparency of procedures; responsiveness — attentive to needs and demands of people; legitimacy — people's own government, overwhelming support in South Asia; record is mixed: frequent corruption, information not shared, yet better than non-democracies.	5
	OR: Democracies are better than non-democracies in elections, public debate, accountability and legitimacy; their record on responsiveness, corruption and inequality is not impressive, but non-democracies are not better; democracy's ability to generate its own support is an outcome; people still prefer it in South Asia.	5
20	Two conditions — (i) democracy is not simply rule by the majority opinion; the majority must work with the minority so that government represents the general view; majority and minority opinions are not permanent; (ii) rule by majority must not become rule by the majority community on the basis of religion, race or language; Sri Lanka's Sinhala majoritarianism shows what goes wrong; democracy remains democracy as long as every citizen has a chance of being in the majority.	5
	OR: Passion for respect and freedom is the basis of democracy; recognition of principle of equality helps women wage struggles against what is unacceptable legally and morally; democracy strengthened the claims of disadvantaged castes for equal status and opportunity; discrimination still exists but lacks moral and legal foundation; people's complaints show a success of democracy; belief in the efficacy of the vote.	5

ANSWER KEY & MARKING SCHEME SET B

Political Science Chapter 5: Outcomes of Democracy | Class 10 Social Science | Maximum Marks: 40

SECTION — A (Objective Type) — Answers — 10 × 1 = 10

Q.	Correct Option	Brief Reasoning
1	(b) They need not worry about deliberation or public opinion	Quick but not accountable
2	(c) a form of government that creates conditions for achieving something	Only a form of government
3	(c) Sharing information with citizens	Democracies do not share information well
4	(c) Pakistan	Democracy preferable 37% in Pakistan
5	(a) Both A and R are true and R is the correct explanation of A	Record on inequality
6	(b) Wealth of the world is owned by a few	Cartoon on rich and poor
7	(c) majority rule	Majority rule alone is not enough
8	(d) the idea of political inequality	Chapter exercise
9	(b) judging things by benefit alone	Belief in vote's efficacy goes beyond it
10	(c) There is nothing to show that non-democracies are less corrupt	Text

SECTION — B (Very Short Answer) — Answers — 4 × 2 = 8

Q.	Expected Answer / Value Points	Marks
11	Democracy is based on the idea of deliberation and negotiation; decisions follow procedures and require discussion in assemblies and majorities, so some delay is bound to happen.	2
12	Democracies are based on political equality but have not been very successful in reducing economic inequalities; a few ultra-rich hold a disproportionate share of income while the poor depend on very little.	2
13	Democracy is the rule of the majority and the poor are in the majority in many countries; but in practice governments do not give poverty the importance expected.	2
14	Regular, free and fair elections; open public debate on major policies and legislations; citizens' right to information about government and its functioning.	2

SECTION — C (Short Answer) — Answers — 4 × 3 = 12

Q.	Expected Answer / Value Points	Marks
15	Nannu lost his ration card and made several rounds to the office without response; he filed an RTI application seeking the daily progress, names of officials and action against them; within a week his card was ready and the officer requested him to withdraw the application; RTI makes officials accountable and ensures transparency.	1+1+1
16	Democracy's examination never gets over; as people get benefits, they ask for more; complaints show awareness and ability to expect and critically look at power holders; transforms people from subjects into citizens; belief that their vote makes a difference.	1+1+1
17	Surveys show people wish to be ruled by elected representatives; they believe democracy is suitable for their country; support exists even in countries without democratic regimes; democracy's ability to generate its own support is itself an outcome.	1+1+1
	OR: A large share of people in South Asia say their vote makes a difference to the way the government is run and to their own interest; belief in the efficacy of the vote is above the calculus of utility.	1+1+1
18	All democratic regimes 3.95; all dictatorial regimes 4.42; poor countries under dictatorship 4.34; poor countries under democracy 4.28; dictatorships slightly higher on average, virtually no difference in poor countries.	1+1+1
	OR: Economic development depends on many factors; the difference among poor countries is negligible; democracy has several positive outcomes such as accountability, legitimacy, dignity and freedom, and accommodation of diversity.	1+1+1

SECTION — D (Long Answer) — Answers — 2 × 5 = 10

Q.	Expected Answer / Value Points	Marks

19	Government — accountable, legitimate, but corruption and secrecy remain; economy — growth slightly lower but no major difference in poor countries; inequality — high in many democracies (South Africa, Brazil); social diversity — procedures reduce conflict if majority and minority work together; dignity — recognised in principle, helps women and disadvantaged castes.	5
	OR: It promotes equality among citizens; enhances dignity; improves quality of decision-making; provides a method to resolve conflicts; allows room to correct mistakes; accountable and legitimate; accommodates social diversity; better than non-democracies despite flaws.	5
20	Legitimate — people's own government; better — regular elections, open debate, accountable, social harmony; worse or equal — economic growth, corruption, inequality, responsiveness; but non-democracies are not better in these.	5
	OR: Top 20 per cent hold large shares; poor often lose income; basic needs like food, education and health unmet; Bangladesh over half in poverty; poor countries depend on rich for food; address by pressure of poor voters, policies on poverty, health, education, and opportunity.	5
